PRESENTATIONS TO MAJOR TRIPP.

THE HONGKONG VOLUNTEERS. The members of the Hongkong Volunteers, in taking a public farewell of their much-esteemed commandant, Major H. J. H. Tripp, last night, presented him with a handsome and appropriate testimonial in the form of a silver model of a gun and years acted as Clerk of the Course. The Volunteer Corps in Major Tripp. Captain McCallam was command, and the other officers, Lieuts. Woolley, Holmes and Deuson, were also present. On Major Tripp's arrival, Hon, P. Ryrie said-Major Tripp, I have been asked to address you on behalf of the Corps, of which I am an honorary member, and I do so also on behalf of the community of Hongkong, for you have done wel for the community of Hongkong and deserve their thanks as well as those of the body of Volunteers with which you have been connected for several years. To you is due, and to the officers under you, in exile upon the Duke d'Aumale, and the very large measure, the credit of the success which this Corps has attained as artil legists-and I think that even our friends of the regular Army here will admit that they have made wonderfully good shooting (Hear, hear, and Applause.) While you, Sir, and the officers under you, deserve praise for this gratifying result, we do not forget, at the same time, that there is a great deal of credit due to the gentlemen who serve under you. The Volunteer Corps is, I hold, a corps of gentlemen. They are intelligent gentlemen who devote themselves in this way to the public service in a manner which is worthy of every regard and of all praise on the part of the community. (Hear, hear, and applause.) I need not say that I hope nothing will ever arise to require their services in the actual protection of the colony; but still, should anything of that arise, there they are, effective men, under the command of competent officers, ready to do their duty when called upon and able to do it well - (Applause. As for yourself, Sir, you are my old familiar friend. I have known you for many years, and I have known as connected with everything that is good in the Colony. Majo Tripp, I have only to say now on behalf of all present that we wish you in your future career, whatever it may be, every success and every happiness-(Loud Applause.) Major Tripp, in reply, said-Mr Ryri honorary members and brother volunteers Mr Ryrie has remarked, it is with a feeling of very deep regret that I am here to night to say good-bye. I have been Hongkeng now, off and on, for over twenty eight years; I have been connected with the Volunteers since 1863, and you may very well imagine how I feel on leaving this place. Still I am proud to have had under my command, both officers and men the volunteers as they now stand before you. Of course as volunteer officers are have had a great deal to contend with. You give up your time and amusements in order to turn out to drill. It is a duty, and not always a pleasant one at first, but still you go to that duty. I think the time may come, and I hope it will, when a great many more of the young men in this Colony will show that they have taken the more manly part of making themselves fit to defend their hearths and homes than that of devoting themselves to the small and gentle game lawn tennis. (Laughter and applause.) am sure, however, that should the occasion arise, even these gentlemen will turn out to a man, and they will remember that they gave the use of his pretty and carefullyhave got a nucleus to work under in those men who have done their duty by becom- various specimens except the largest plants ing members of this corps. The Members of the Hongkong Jockey Club met this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce to present an address and testimonial to Mr Tripp, who has for many P. Ryrie presided, and there were also present :- Hon. J. Bell Irving, Messrs W the H. Forbes, J. Grant, M. Grote, R. M. Gray, E. W. Rutter, stewards; and a large number of members. Mr Ryrie-The pleasant duty has been lengthy one, but I think good things can pearance of the place reminded one of the We are here to represent the sporting comwhich, you may rest assured, has the greatest appreciation of your services. You of seats were placed for visitors. Along a way which has never been excelled. The position of Clerk of the Course, which you have long held; is a most onerous and were displayed Major Tripp's initials, important duty; and it is one that envolved on you a great deal of labour and anxiety. And probably sometimes when you were full uniform were drawn up on the green not in good health you have gone to in parade order at nine o'clock, to receive attend to the business of the Course to your etriment, when you would have been much better to remain quietly at home. The community here appreciate your services in the highest degree (Applause). I addressed you fast night in another capacity. We are now to confine ourselves to the Jockey Club. That the Jockey Club regrets your departure, it is unnecessary for me to say. We deeply regret it and we deeply regret the cause of it. I am sure that if your health had continued good you would have done, as you have done in the past, excellent service on the Race Course for years to come. In fact, Mr Tripp, your name is a household word in the Colony. Tripp is here and Tripp is there and Tripp is everywhere. (Applause) am now deputed to present you with this address and a small testimonial of the appreciation which the Jockey Club holds you in. If you allow me gentlemen, I will now read the address :-To H. J. H. Tripp, Esquire .-Dear Sir .- On the eve of your departure from the Colony we, the members of the Hongkong Jockey Club, desire to express our esteem and regard for you personally and to present you with a small token of our appreciation of the valuable services which you have rendered to us and the Hongkong Race Meetings in general for a great number of years. As Clerk of the Course, you have been indefatigable in carrying out what have been most onerous duties, and your zeal and goodwill have, to a great extent, ensured the success of our Race Meetings. For this devotion, you will always live in the memory of the Sporting Community of Hongkong, and we now beg that you will accept this address, accompanied by a small testimonial by which you may remember your Hongkong friends. It is a matter of deep regret to us that the state of your health necessitates a change of climate, and we earnestly trust that it may have the happy effect of restoring your health and former vigour and that every prosperity may attend you

We remain, Yours very sincerely, Hongkong, 14th March, 1889. Mr Tripp (who was considerably affected)-Mr Ryrie and gentlemen, I assure you that I can hardly express my feelings when say that I leave Hongkong with deep regret. I have been connected now with Hongkong some eight and twenty years. Although; as Mr Ryrie says, it was an onerons duty to be Clerk of the Course, still as far as I am concerned it was a labour of love. I believed in sport. It has been bred in me, and I hope it will continue to the end ; because I assure you, gentlemen, in all my experience, that a good sportsman is a man you to Shanghai. And not only will this man that can be trusted, and is generally follow you there, but the best wishes of found to be a jolly good fellow. I can only say, gentlemen, that I hope the Jockey Club will continue to prosper as it has done. There was a remark made at tiffin given by a new and enthusiastic sportsman, Mr Mody, at the Rare Meeting, that the Course in the present occasion was better than it ever was before and will ever be again. Hobjected to those words will ever be again, because I think there is nothing that cannot be improved; and I am sure that the gentleman who will come after me will use his best endeavour to improve it. I assure you, gentlemen, that I do not feel able to make a long speech, as I feel parting from this place very much (Applause); but I shall always feel, as I look pon this address, that this has been one of the proudest moments in my life. It is a feeling of great pleasure to me to think that my services have been appreciated by the community of Hongkong (Applause) Gentlemen, I thank you all.

made thereunder. 9 I would invite special attention to section 7. Article 4 of the Board's Byelaws under subsection 24 of section 13 throws the responsibility of notifying, when the case is not under the care of a medical practitioner, on the resident nearest male adult relative of the patient. The Byr-law assumes 1st, that the patient has a relative, 2nd, that the said relative is of the male sex, and 3rd, that the said male relative resides in the same house as the patient This, I sobrait, does not meet the requirements of the Colony. In many instances, especially in the case of small-nox, infectious disease occurs in persons who have no re atives in the Col ny, and whom Bye-law No. 4 does not affect. This remark applies to inmates of hotels, brothels and such like places, where obviously it is highly necescessary to enforce very stringent regulations. The proposed provisions in section 7 are, in respect of the responsibility of course, notifying, exactly on the lines of the recommendation of the Select C mmittee of the House of Commons as stated in their report of the 2nd of June 1882. 10. Part III contains provisions as to dealing with infectious discouses :-Sec. 11. Gives the Board power to order disinfection of premises. Sec. 12. Gives the Sanitary Board power to disinfect premises, destroy articles and make compensation, Sec. 13. Claims for compensation. Sec. 14. Provision of means of disinfection. Sec. 15. Provision of conveyance for infections disease. With but one exception, precisely similar provisions to the above are to be found in the Public Health Act of 1875, the wording of which, in adapting them to local requirements, has been followed as closely as pessible. Section 13 does not occur in the English Act.

11. Part IV provides for the Board bringing within the Ordinance or any part thereof those diseases which are not specifically mentioned in the Ordinance and to which it may be necessary to apply some, if not all, of the provisions contained therein Sec. 21. Sanitary Board may by re-

CHINKIANG RIOT. Roy, F. T. Bryan writes as follows in the Chinese Recorder:-The real cause of the riot was batred of the Sikh policemen, For many years only natives were employ- giving up their own private rooms. ed as policemen, and consequently the Chinese were allowed many privileges in the Concession. A short time ago several Sikhs were employed and given the higher positions in the police service. They began at once to introduce more stringent regulations, in order to have more system and order in the Concession-a desirable thing. The Chinese are not a people to obey quickly and promptly. The Silbs are naturally rough in their manners.

especially toward the Chinese, whom they consider to be greatly inferior to themsolves. Consequently the Chinese were often roughly treated, and began to regard the Sikha as very impolite, rough, cruel, men. As time went on the feeling intensified. The Sikks were called redheaded foreign devils' and feared and I was told by an intelligent Chinese teacher that three causes recently increased this hatred very much among all classes.

A small military official was dragged off his horse and taken away to the Police Station by his queue. He was degraded of His offence was riding too fast through the Concession. The beggars and idlers generally were

On February 5th occurred the occasion of the riot. An opium smoking gambling beggar was found gambling in the Concession. He was ordered out, but Uhineae like, was very slow in obeying. Thereupon it is said the head policeman kicked him-a brutal act, if true. The man fell down stemingly insensible. He was taken up and carried to the British Consulate. M Mansfield sent for Dr. Lyuch, who examined the man, and on buding no sign of injury, told the Cousul that there was no serious trouble (which was true since the man is now well). The Consul ordered the police to take the man away. They carried him and put him down in the middle of the road. just within the Concession, in front of the Baptist Chapel. It was New Year, and the Chinese shops being closed, there were many people on the streets. A crowd a on gathered around the man, and were told that he has been kicked by the policeman and was dying. At 4 p.m. the crowd had increased to hundreds. The kicking of the

took place soon after noon. About 4 p.m. they began an attack on the Police Station, quite a weak attack, led by small boys, some of the crowd ooking on and others cheering. It was evident that the mob meant mischief. H.B.M's Consul sent for Chinese soldiers. Only a few came, armed with small bamboo sticks. They came to encourage the mob rather than to quell it. A small official appeared on the scene and seized one of two leaders, but was stoned in the attempt.
